

MRS. CAROLINE JENNINGS PASSES INTO THE BEYOND

Widow of Rev. L. R. Jennings
Succumbs to Pneumonia
at Age of 85

Mrs. Caroline Clark Jennings died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Brown, 217 Glenwood avenue, at the age of eighty-five years. She was the widow of Rev. L. R. L. Jennings, who for many years was one of the most noted Baptist divines of the state, and who died in 1888 at the age of sixty-five years.

Mrs. Jennings was a most remarkable woman, physically and intellectually. During her long life she never suffered a long illness until her last. For many years she was a leader in church work. At her death she was a member of the First Baptist church of Atlanta, with which she became connected on making Atlanta her home in 1858.

About seven years ago she fell and injured her hip, and was thereafter unable to walk and confined to a chair in her home. But this did not cause her in the least to abate the keen interest in life she had always manifested. She lived in the present, keeping pace with the progress of the times, reading magazines and newspapers, and to some extent, with current fiction. She was an accomplished English scholar, and her mind retained its full vigor until she slipped into unconsciousness a few hours before succumbing to an attack of pneumonia.

She is survived by her daughter, a son, W. H. Jennings, and a granddaughter, Miss Corry Jennings, of Atlanta, and by other relatives living in Florida. Burial will be held in Florida.

Barclay & Brandon have charge of the remains, which will be taken to Crawfordville, Ga., Thursday morning to be buried.

HOFMAN WINS HIS SUIT AGAINST CHICAGO CLUB

Verdict for $2,944 Back Salary Returned by Windy City Jury

CHICAGO, June 10.—Archie Hoffman was awarded $2,944.77 in a verdict returned today in his suit against the Chicago National league club for back salary, which was tried in municipal court.

Hoffman claimed the money under a contract with the Chicago club in 1912. He was released by the local organization to Pittsburgh in that year before the expiration of the contract, and when the Pittsburgh club later released him to a minor league club he asked President Murphy, of the Cubs, to pay him the salary still due under the contract. Murphy told him, according to testimony heard in the trial, to look to the Pittsburgh club for the money.

Possum Now Takes Place of Camels With One and Two Humps

"Could you please find me a picture of a camel with one hump?" asked a well-dressed man in the Carnegie library.

"I'll see if I can find one," said the library assistant, who was looking for the picture.

Three days later the man returned.

"That's a fine picture," said the man, holding up a picture of a possum.

"That girl could stand it no longer," said the man.

"Why do you want a possum's picture?" she asked.

"I wondered why you didn't ask me what I wanted with these pictures before," he said.

"I used the pictures to illustrate some posters for Shriners' work. Now I want the 'possum picture as a model for some posters which the Ad Men are going to take with them when they go on to Toronto."

He got his 'possum picture.

POLICE BOARD REVOKES LICENSE OF DETECTIVE

Action Taken on Case of W.
D. McWorth on Beaver's
Recommendation

The board of police commissioners took another rap at the W. J. Burns National Detective agency Tuesday night by revoking the permit to W. D. McWorth to operate, as a private detective, in Atlanta.

McWorth got his license while with the Pinkerton agency. Later he left that agency. When Burns investigated the Mary Phagan murder case some weeks ago, McWorth was one of the detectives he employed.

In the prosecution of Burns et al., following the close of the investigation, on the technical charges of operating without license, McWorth escaped a fine in recorder's court because he happened to have a license in his own name.

But this did not relieve him where the police board was concerned, and when Chief Beavers recommended Tuesday night that his license be revoked, the board very promptly adopted the chief's recommendation.

The board's action will have to go to council to be confirmed, in order to comply technically with the detective agency ordinance.

A letter from Dan S. Lehon, of the J. W. Burns Detective agency, whose Atlanta office was closed recently by the board, was submitted by Mayor Woodward. In it Lehon gave a list of twenty-two Pinkerton agency operatives in Atlanta, intimating that inasmuch as the Burns agency had been closed it might be well to close the other. The board referred the matter to Chief Beavers, directing that he investigate the lawfulness not only of the Pinkerton agency but of all private detective concerns in Atlanta.

The board took no ballot for chairman on account of the absence of Chairman of ten days.

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS SAY REPEAL WILL PASS

Long Debate Over Panama
Tolls May Be Voted On Today

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The long, historic debate over the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption was in its last stages today when the senate resumed work, with the prospect of final voting before adjournment tonight. Administration leaders claimed the repeal would pass by a safe majority.

First in order for voting came the amendments to the repeal bill as it passed the house. The principal amendment, a compromise between senate Democrats and Republicans, qualified the repeal with the reservation that it shall not be construed as a waiver of the right of the United States to pass American coastwise through the canal free of tolls. It generally was conceded that the amendment would pass the senate, later be accepted by the house and finally accepted by President Wilson. While it is said the president will approve the repeal with the amendment, he preferred that it be passed without one.

Senator Sutherland, Republican, proposed an amendment asserting positively by the right of the United States to discriminate in favor of its own ships and sound the advantage of having it voted upon first. There were objections, however, and Senator Swann, acting as presiding officer, ruled it out of order.

GRADY HOSPITAL TAXED BEYOND ITS CAPACITY

Beds Placed in Halls and Corridors to Care for 246 Patients

The Grady hospital Wednesday morning was filled to overflowing with more patients than it has cared for in many months. The hospital accommodated comfortably 200 patients. Wednesday 246 were housed within its walls, necessitating the placing of beds in halls and corridors.

Nurses and doctors were working overtime with the unprecedented number of sick persons, while many trivial cases that ordinarily would be cared for at the hospital were turned away for lack of room.

It was stated by Dr. W. B. Summer, superintendent of the hospital, that there was no specific explanation for the unusual number of patients other than the natural increase due to Atlanta's growth. The causes of sickness are various and not anything out of the ordinary.

Helping Kidneys
By Clearing Blood

A Function Greatly Assisted
By a Well-Known
Remedy.

Most readers will be interested to more clearly understand why analysis of urine is so important in the use of S. S. S. to purify the blood, its action is a stimulant to the excretory system of the kidneys. It makes up the constructive tissue of the kidneys, all the blood from all over the body must pass through the kidneys. They act as filters and excretors. And so, the blood is purified. It is not only the blood of the kidneys and the blood of the kidneys is determined. The excretory energy forced by S. S. S. is shown in the fact that it is also demonstrated in the skin. And as the blood continues to flow through the kidneys the dominating nature of S. S. S. is acting as it does through the excretory system of the kidneys, a marked decrease of disease manifestations as demonstrated by urine analysis. This same S. S. S. is a great relief to the body wastes are more evenly distributed to the excretory system. Their elimination is stimulated by the tonic action afforded the liver, lungs, skin and kidneys. Thus, in case of rheumatism, eczema, urticaria, neuralgia, indigestion, headache, and other ailments of the blood, S. S. S. is prepared by The Scott-Bowditch Chemical Company, Boston, Mass., and is the only medicine that will give you any benefit. If you have any diseased or unclean blood, write to their Medical Agents for free advice.

JIM CONLEY'S LAWYER TO INSIST ON HEARING

Effort Will Be Made Soon to Bring Up Motion for New Trial

Attorney William M. Smith, who represents Jim Conley, declares that in the next week he is going to insist on a new trial of the case of Leo M. Frank's appeal for a new trial.

Conley was convicted about four years ago on an indictment charging him with being an accessory after the fact of the murder of Mary Phagan, and was sentenced to serve 12 months in the penitentiary.

Smith made a motion for a new trial on the ground that Judge Smith had been prejudiced at the trial, and that he was unable to give a fair trial to the jury on the facts.

Smith says he is going to insist on a hearing for the new trial, and that he will appeal to the court for a new trial.

Smith says he is going to insist on a hearing for the new trial, and that he will appeal to the court for a new trial.

As a result, when Conley's case is finally heard, it is probable that the new trial will be granted.

CONFLICTING REPORTS ON BIG STORM DAMAGE

Advices Give Various Numbers of Dead and Wrecks on Bays and Sea

CHATHAM, N. B., June 10.—Conflicting reports make it impossible today to determine definitely how many fishing schooners and lives have been lost in the storm which swept the coast of St. Lawrence, Chaleur bay and the Straits of Northumberland.

One report placed the number of dead at 19. Another from Chatham said that nineteen lives were known to have been lost, one vessel was missing and nothing was known of the fate of the crews of two vessels reported ashore on Pictou Island.

Captain Samuel Brou, of the schooner "Warren," which arrived here last night, said that when he left on Sunday he heard that more than 100 persons had perished, but he believed this was a great exaggeration.

Chatham, Shipwreck and Lighthouse headquarters of the Bay of Chaleur fishing fleet, are remote points and because of broken communication it has been impossible to get accurate accounts of the damage. The vessels that suffered from the gale were small schooners. Nearly every craft was manned only by members of a single family, with the father in command and three or four sons or other relatives composing the crews.

INMAN PARK CITIZENS FIGHT FOR PUBLIC PARK

Court Hears Suit to Prevent Sale of Property for Resi- dential Purposes

The fight of citizens of Inman Park to prevent forever the sale of the triangular plot of ground, known as the Mesa, which begins at the intersection of Euclid avenue and Waverly Way, for residential purposes, reached a climax Wednesday when the trial of the case of W. K. Mower and others against the East Atlanta Improvement company commenced before a jury in Judge Ellis' division of superior court.

Prominent citizens, among them John R. Dickey, W. T. Henry, T. H. Jeffries and W. C. Lawrence, obtained an injunction more than a year ago restraining the land company, which is largely owned by Joel Hurt, the capitalist, from selling the property on the ground that when the name concern in the early nineteen sold out, the property was sold to the city and entered into it. It was then agreed that the "Mesa" would forever be used as a park and no buildings allowed on it.

The action of the superior court in granting the injunction was sustained by the supreme court of the state, and now the trial by jury, to force the land company to declare the plot of ground a public park, has been entered into.

The case will probably be concluded Thursday.

ATLANTA BANKERS WILL ATTEND RESERVE MEET

Directors for Regional Banks to Be Selected at Chattanooga Thursday

It is expected that every national bank in Atlanta will be represented at the meeting in Chattanooga Thursday morning at which the selection of directors for the new regional bank here will be discussed among representatives of all member banks in the sixth district. The attendance from the district is expected to be practically complete.

J. P. Houslin, president of the Chattanooga Clearing House association, presiding the invitation to the meeting. His letter stressed the importance, to member banks as well as to the community, of the importance of the selection of the six places on the district board such men only as are equipped fully to discharge those duties. The meeting was called for full and free discussion of the situation, and if the representative see fit, for nominations for any or all of the six places in such manner as may be adopted.

The formal election will be made on ballots furnished by the organization committee, the ballots being sent directly to the committee in Chattanooga. The election will not be in order, however, until the members have sent their nominations to the committee and the nominees' names have been tabulated and printed and furnished in this form to the member banks.

GEORGIA IS WANTED AT EXPOSITION IN BOSTON

Governor and Mayor Send In- vitations by Telegraph to Chamber of Commerce

Two telegrams, one from Governor David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts, and the other from Mayor James A. Curley, of Boston, were received Wednesday by the Georgia chamber of commerce, urging that all of Georgia be represented at the Boston exposition this fall.

"In connection with the invitation extended to you," says the governor's telegram, "I desire to extend a hearty invitation to Georgia alone, and express the hope that you will accept the invitation. I feel that such an exhibit will be of great interest to the citizens of our commonwealth, and it undoubtedly will be very valuable to the state. I assure you that our people will greatly appreciate the fact that the exposition will be the largest ever held here and bears our strongest indorsement."

The mayor's telegram is of the same effect.

Invitations were presented recently to the Atlanta chamber of commerce and the state chamber by a special emissary from the Boston exposition. Only three states have been invited to participate—Louisiana, Alabama and Georgia.

D. V. S. Senior Society of Emory Announces Its Elections for 1914

These are the members of the D. V. S. Senior society of Emory college who have just announced their successors. Those in the picture all members of the 1914 class, are top row: J. H. Saxon, T. C. Rogers and P. P. Rivers. Center row: E. W. Strozier and G. O. Wright. Bottom, F. A. Pattillo and H. C. Sewell.

Seven Members of Junior Class Picked as Most Rep- resentative Members of Next Graduates-to-Be

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
EMORY COLLEGE, Oxford, Ga., June 10.—Seven members of the junior class of Emory have just been selected as the seven most representative men in the 1915 class and therefore entitled membership in the D. V. S. Senior society.

They are: John Clifton Howie, of Albany, Ga.; Roy Bruce Rhoderick, Auburn, Ga.; George William Mathews, Jr., of Fitzgerald, Ga.; Allen Megahan, of Thomson, Ga.; Turner Benton Neal, of McDonough, Ga.; Lester Hubbs, of Forsyth, Ga.; and Robert Nichols Stokes, of Milledgeville, Ga.

The D. V. S. society, in making the election, gave out the following announcement:

"We are trying to make D. V. S. an effective force in building up college pride and encouraging college enterprises in considering men or membership the first query will be: 'What has he done for Emory?' In what way has he contributed to the advancement of the college."

"We think the organization is a 'realistic' and a stimulus to intellectual effort."

RECOGNIZE MERIT
"We propose to recognize merit wherever it may be found, and we will seek invariably to tender our elections to the men to whom they should rightfully belong. We are not in the least interested in college politics or favor of any kind. Merit is so emphasized that a man will receive an election if he deserves it, even if he has personal enemies in D. V. S."

"The following is the written acceptance of election that every man must sign before he becomes a D. V. S. member."

"I accept the election of the D. V. S. Senior society and pledge myself to exercise an impartial and fair judgment in the selection of my successors, disregarding all personal considerations, and disavowing all motives except merit, true worth, and leadership, looking to the greatest good of Emory college."

"The members of D. V. S., both undergraduates and alumni have absolutely refused at all times to discuss its affairs with outsiders. They are not allowed to speak its name. However, we want the student body and the alumni of the college to know that we are true to our word. We want every student of Emory college to know that he can secure an election to D. V. S. if he will work for it. Every sub-freshman is a prospective D. V. S. member, and we want to deserve and receive the respect and confidence of the student body. No amount of fraternity or non-fraternity politics can deprive you of an election to D. V. S. if you deserve it."

How to Gain Weight A Pound a Day

"This man and woman who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy 'fat' there? fat? just try eating a little Benger's with their meals for a while and see results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Benger's—no other food with every meal for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. If you have a question of how you look or feel, or what your friends say and think, the scales will tell you the answer. You will find that you are not only gaining weight but that you are feeling better and more active than you have for some time. And best of all, the new flesh stays put. Benger does not get itself back fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and proteins of what you have eaten, into rich, rich, fat-producing nutriment for the tissues and blood—exactly as it is an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this without new pain, gas, or any other waste. But Benger stops the waste and does more. It makes the fat-producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop into and produce of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Benger, then, is efficient, efficient, and economical. It is a food that is easy to eat, and it is a food that is easy to digest. In Atlanta and vicinity sell it in large boxes—two tablets in a package—each a guarantee of weight increase or money back.—(Advertisement.)"

The Paige—and Public Demand

In Three Years, Paige Sales Have Increased From $44,000 to more than $1,250,000 a Month

These astounding figures are indisputable evidence of Paige supremacy in the medium price field.

They indicate an increasing demand for Paige cars that is without parallel in the middle division of the Automobile Industry. They affirm plainly and clearly that the Paige is a "preferred" investment with the motor buying public—the "first choice" of men who weigh motor car values.

As you turn these figures over in your mind, remember that increased sales can only come as a result of increased demand. The public does the buying—the public alone determines whether automobile sales shall increase or decrease.

So—above all—these figures mean that the motor public has rendered an overwhelming verdict in favor of the Paige. In the most substantially convincing way—an investment of over $1,250,000 a month—Motor Car buyers have selected the Paige as the best value of the medium priced field.

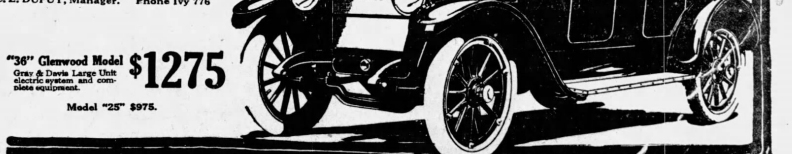

With the facts before you—in the face of such sweeping evidence—can you afford to purchase any car until you have carefully investigated the Paige? Isn't it logical to assume that there is a tangible, practical reason back of this marked preference for one car.

See the Paige today. The answer is in the car itself.

PROHIBITION FORCES TO FIGHT FOR BILL IN HOUSE

Nationwide "Dry" Question Likely to Be Forced to Vote

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—The question of national prohibition again today loomed up on the congressional horizon. That the house will be forced to vote at an early date on a resolution providing for national prohibition through an amendment to the federal constitution practically was assured today. This was generally conceded as a result of the expressed willingness of Majority Leader Underwood to have the question brought before the house at a test.

Definite action on the subject was expected to be taken by the house rules committee at a special meeting today. The committee had before it two proposals, one was a revised resolution introduced by Representative Hobson of Alabama, designed to meet opposition to his previous resolution on the ground that it violates state rights. The other was a resolution offered by Representative Cull of Kentucky, proposing a special rule for consideration of the national prohibition resolution with a limit of ten hours' debate. It was expected that the committee would use the Cull resolution as a basis of action and amend it so as to apply to the revised resolution.

Revival of the prohibition issue which was a live topic in the house some time ago, was the subject of widespread comment today. It had generally been understood that prohibition was "dead" so far as this session was concerned. At the last caucus of house Democrats prohibition was not considered on the ground that it was not a party measure. This, however, did not mean that its consideration would be precluded after the program of proposed legislation had been disposed of. There are now no party measures pending before the house.

PIERCE OIL CORPORATION IS OUSTED OUT OF TEXAS

Supreme Court Denies Petition for Mandamus for Business Permit

(By Associated Press.)
AUSTIN, Tex., June 10.—The Pierce Oil Corporation of Virginia was today denied the right to carry on business in this state when the state supreme court denied their petition for mandamus to compel F. C. Welbert, secretary of state, to issue them a permit to that effect.

The permit was refused and the supreme court upheld the refusal on the ground that the Pierce Oil corporation was not a corporation of this state. The court also held that the corporation, the Waters-Pierce Oil company, convicted of violating state anti-trust laws, and therefore, prohibited by statute from ever doing business in Texas.

It was pointed out by Associate Justice Nelson Phillips in his opinion, that the Pierce Oil corporation, which was organized in Virginia, took over the property of the Waters-Pierce company and assumed all its obligations.

TRADE COMMISSION BILL IS GENERALLY APPROVED

Southern States Favor Measure 51 For to 2 Against, Referendum Vote Shows

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—The chamber of commerce of the United States today sent to every member of the house and senate a letter containing an analysis of the referendum vote recently taken by the chamber relative to the proposed interstate trade commission bill. An analysis of the whole vote shows business men generally favor the measure. A scrutiny of the vote shows, however, that there is a wide divergence of opinion between the organizations of different localities. The analysis by states shows the eastern states voting 75 in favor and 14 against; the middle states 51 in favor and 2 against; the southern states 179 in favor and 12 against; and the western and Pacific coast states 41 for and 12 against. National trade organizations voted in favor of the commission and 9 against.

J. HAMILTON LEWIS CUTS HIS OWN NAME IN INTEREST OF SPACE

Illinois Senator Amends Monicker by Striking Out James Wherever It Appears in Official Documents

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Officially he will be known hereafter as "Hamilton Lewis." By an instruction given yesterday by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, erstwhile Georgian, to amend the name of the senator from Illinois to appear hereafter as simply Hamilton Lewis. For years he has been cartooned, joked and glib on account of his flashy, if correct, dress and his flamboyant, but unbecoming, behavior. As James Hamilton Lewis he has been known to fame and publicity. Recently one of Klaw & Erlanger's men perpetrated a joke on the senator at the hotel where he is staying. He observed him strutting through the rotunda by having him paged in a loud voice as "Ham Lewis." The senator responded very promptly to the call and warned the page that while he recognized the appellation he was not pleased by it. The showman had fled before Senator Lewis could administer chastisement to him. Senate members who recalled today said that up to now they had received no orders to change the official whiskers of the senator from Illinois.

"I can never make people understand that my name is James Hamilton Lewis," said the senator when asked about the change he had decided in the official writing of his name. "Throughout the world I am known as 'Jim Ham' and James Hamilton, one time governor of South Carolina and who served a term in congress from Virginia. But it seems more convenient for my friends and newspapers to call me 'Ham' or Lewis Hamilton. It is an economy to write it simply Hamilton." This was the reason for instructing the clerk to make the change in the official use of his name. "Don't do it," said Senator Kern, major league pitcher who was standing by. "If this spirit of abbreviation keeps up you error will be cutting off your whiskers, and that would be a distinct loss to public life."

POWER CO. WINS STEP IN COLUMBUS LITIGATION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
COLUMBUS, Ga., June 10.—Continuation proceedings of the city of Columbus against the Columbus Power company came to an abrupt end, temporary at least, yesterday afternoon when a restraining order was signed in Atlanta by Judge W. T. Newman against the city of Columbus going any further in the matter without orders from the court.

It is contained in the petition of the waterworks people that the property which the city is seeking to condemn is not the property of the Columbus Power company, but that it belongs to the Columbus Water Supply company and that the proceedings are therefore null and void. It is stated that the Columbus Water Supply company recently purchased the tract of land in question from the Columbus Power company.

Unkind to the Pigs

Tit-Bits.
A minister, spending a holiday in the north of Ireland, was out walking, and, feeling very thirsty, called at a farm house for a drink of milk. The farmer's wife gave him a large bowl of milk and while he was quenching his thirst a number of pigs got round about him. The minister noticed that the pigs were very strange in their manner. He said: "My good lady, why are the pigs so excited?" The farmer's wife replied, "Sure, it's no wonder they are excited, sir; it's their own little bowl you are drinking out of."

CONFIDENCE HELPS PLAYER.

BY FULLERTON.
Hughie Jennings has a yarn that illustrates how confidence helps a ball player.
"We had a young fellow last fall, he came to the game, I had seen the big show before I used him against Washington, but I son was going to pitch. John, some way the youngster got the idea that Johnson was Bob Groom."
"He watched Johnson pitch the first inning and then, turning on his face, he said: 'Is Johnson much faster than the fellow?'"
"Sam caught the idea, and replied:
"Oh, yes. This fellow has some speed, but there isn't anything on his face."
"The kid trotted up to the plate, the first time up and braced out a bit. The second time up he drove out another hit. The third time up he was batting against Johnson, and the last time he looked foolish trying to bat and he struck out."

U. S. TO AID PEACE MOVE IN ALBANIA, IS REPORT

Circular Said to Have Been Issued by American Minister to Greece

LONDON, June 10.—A newspaper dispatch from Vienna today says George Fred Williams, American minister to Greece, has sent a circular to the representative of the European powers informing them that the government of the United States is ready to offer its good offices for the restoration of peace in Albania. The information was published by a newspaper in Athens. The Moslem insurgents in Albania refuse to recognize Prince William of Wied as their ruler and demand the nomination of a Moslem prince. Recently they came into armed conflict with the government forces which they defeated but afterward were routed in the vicinity of Tirana to the east of Durazzo, the Albanian capital.

Williams Receives No Authority on Peace Matter

WASHINGTON, June 10.—At the state department it was announced today that no instructions had been given to Minister Williams to circulate the European powers offering the services of the United States as a mediator in Albania, and officials doubted that the minister had taken any such action on his own account.

Vols Overcame Five-Run Lead; Beat Crackers

Entering Eighth Inning With Score 7 to 2, Schwartz's Men Score Four Runs in That Round and Two in the Next—Double Bill Today

BY ELLIOTT DENT.
NASHVILLE, June 10.—The Vols rallied in the eighth and ninth innings yesterday and overcame our five-run lead and beat us by 8 to 7.

Mutt Williams pitched for Atlanta during the first eight innings and up until his last inning he pitched a very good game. In the eighth the ball landed on Matt for four runs. Williams was much to be blamed for the rally for he failed to cover first on a hit to Elbel and the run was safe. After this they kept up a hitting bee until four runs came.

Bill Smith wanted to save Browning and Ferryman for the games today so sent him back to finish the game after having pitched the day before, and—well, the inning is given below.

Bill Schwartz was forced to yank Boland out and put Bender in the box after we had scored four runs in one inning off Boland. We had two men thrown out at the plate again today, both decisions being questionable.

Our first run was scored in the second. With one out, Welchness walked. Jennings was hit by the pitcher. Flanagan singled through Paulet, filling the bases. Welchness walked. Dunn hit to short.

The Vols went one better in the fourth. King threw to first on a single. Flanagan hit to Elbel who made a sensational stop and sent King out at the plate. Hemmings scored. Flanagan hit to Elbel with a safe hit to left.

The Crackers jumped on Boland for four runs in the fifth. With one out, McCann hit to short and was safe. Fletcher walked. Elbel swung back, filling the sacks. Loe doubled, scoring two runs.

After Welchness was deliberately walked, Jennings hit safely and Elbel hit to short. Bender relieved Boland at this point and struck out Flanagan.

With out in the sixth McCann doubled to left, Kircher singled on the next ball and McCann scored. Loe singled in the seventh and tied scores on Flanagan's two-base wallop.

The Vols hit rally again in the eighth. Callahan singled. King struck out. Sloan hit to left for two bases. Callahan, Paulet hit to Elbel. But Williams was late getting over to cover and the runner was safe.

Hemmings walked. A double by Hemmings and a single by Flanagan scored two more over. In the ninth Foster hit for Bender and scored. Dunn hit over second. Callahan was safe on a bunt.

Both men hit Dunn's throw get through him. After King had popped out, Sloan hit a slow grounder to Jennings. Flanagan playing in close, and the ball hopped over his head, both runners were safe.

At this point we play a double-header. Browning and Perryman will pitch for us.

Those for and against the measure had sent workers from all sections of the state to Baton Rouge and this force was augmented by the arrival here yesterday of a special train bearing almost 200 men from New Orleans. These were working for the bill.

Manager Bill Announces His Purchase of Carl Thompson From Jersey City

BUDDY AND THE GANG--OSWALD WINS

-- BY CROSBY

THE SPORTSMAN BY GRANTLAND RICE

We don't know whether John J. McGraw is a reader of the late of Tennyson or not. But if he is, we are willing to wager at the odds of 7 to 3 that his favorite Tennyson line is this: "Then I dipped into the future as a human eye could see--"

Dipping into the future is one of the nearest little achievements that McGraw puts through.

Contrary to general advice, McGraw goes hunting for trouble, and he finds it, and then grinds against it.

When other managers are bemoaning their hard luck with injured athletes and other ailments, McGraw has long since guarded himself against such ailing from fate. He has already beaten Fate a couple of times by a line of jumps. He doesn't bank to any extent upon good luck--or fall back before bad. When good luck comes he is always ready to take it at its cost. When bad luck comes he is ready to meet it and at least hold his own.

A FEW INCIDENTS.

Figure out McGraw's system and you won't wonder why he has already asked away three consecutive championships and is leading the fourth. Start with his outfield. Suppose some untoward event should demolish Burns, Becker and Murray--his entire outfield? How many other club clubs could stand up under fire with the entire outfield wrecked? Yet, if McGraw lost all three regulars on Monday he would be able to start Tuesday's battle with Snodgrass, Robertson and Thorpe--three fast, hard-hitting, good-throwing people who would be a shade below the regular's standard, and this only in defensive play.

PITCHERS.

At the opening of the present season McGraw banked heavily upon four pitchers. They were Mathewson, Marquard, Toots and Demaree. Two of these in the first seven weeks of play fell far behind their past work. Mathewson and Toots held the trail, but Marquard and Demaree were unable to get going. With half the pitching staff out of gear there were enough others around to help plug the gap until the two 1913 stars slipped back to the front again with their pristine punch.

THE INFELD.

McGraw won a pennant last season. But since that achievement took place he has lost two crack infielders--Shafers and Herzog--and among the best. And since the season opened he has had two other star infielders bumped from the battle line by Fletcher and Merkle.

So in the last two 1913 seasons McGraw has lost Shafers, Herzog, Fletcher and Merkle--an infield complete that would rank with any in the land.

Yet, in spite of all this, his machine hasn't wobbled at any stage. He had other people ready for the job. And, while there was a temporary setback, it wasn't sufficient to break ranks and bring on a rout--or anything like it. In fact, the power and speed of the machine was almost as good as ever.

McGraw draws his share of hard luck, but he has discounted it in advance. There hasn't been a time in the past four seasons when his Giant leader couldn't have lost four regulars from his lineup without seriously weakening the club.

Suppose any other club in baseball lost four regulars in one disaster? Without an exception there would be a noticeable lull in proceedings for some time ahead.

AT NO ONE'S MERCY.

Most clubs are at the mercy of one or two stars. Washington is as important as the physical.

But McGraw's Collins for any long spell he would feel the loss keenly. Detroit, losing the league, lost Cobb for several weeks and immediately hit the ground with a nauseating thud. The Tigers, being sold their next best player.

McGraw is at the mercy of no one or two men. Mathewson's loss would be a hard blow, but not a wrecking one. There were many stars who the Giants without Matty would have settled to the depths like a ball of lead. But Matty has a lot of pitching help now--except his word series--and his absence would no longer mean disaster.

MATHEWSON VS. JOHNSON.

A veteran expert was discussing Mathewson and Johnson as rival pitchers a few days back.

"Johnson," he remarked, "could learn quite a bit from Matty. It's not pitch, Matty only pitches well enough to win. If the score is tight he works at top speed, but if his mates give him a good lead he immediately raises up and saves his arm for another day. You never see Matty pitching for a shutout nor holding rival clubs to few hits and low scores at almost every start as Johnson does. The time he takes a season from Matty's system."

This contention is a way, is about correct. Johnson works at a terrific pace. Mathewson does not. But at that, with a good lead, the Kansas merely pikes along.

And here's another detail: Ever notice how few times Johnson has been out of the box? We discussed this side of the matter with Griff recently. "Johnson," he said, "rarely gets a chance to rest. No matter what the score against him, we rarely see him. Rankin Johnson, of the Red Sox. This youngster, stuck in originally as a sure service, worked three games against Walter and held us to one run in the three games. Walter held the Red Sox to one run in two of the three games and yet lost two of them. It's about the same way against other pitchers. Walter about one time in five starts does Johnson never get the chance to drift along and save up his arm."

Fullerton's Gossip

Major Fullerton returned from a recent trip to Wisconsin. He said that the White Sox when they came to Chicago, they asked a friend, "Any luck?" "No luck," he said, "I saw them in many places as the Sox lost games."

President Gilmore had nothing to say about Johnson's decision, and the odd thing about it was that he didn't say anything about it.

"Chicago's Irish strike is ended, and we are making money. Possibly they will quit to make more Irish money."

The White Sox of Chicago have reached a stage where they refer to two men as being as a hating rally.

Beginning June 29 and continuing throughout the week, the tenth annual Georgia state tennis tournament will be held on the courts of the Piedmont Driving Club. This tournament will include men's singles and doubles, and also mixed doubles. A three-year trophy cup offered by the association will be contested for in this tourney. At present Nat Thornton and Dr. Karl P. Little have won two lots of the cup, having proven the winner in two months. The following have also won in one tournament each: C. V. Anster, Jr., Frank T. Payne, Eden T. Taylor, E. V. Carter, Jr., and Carleton Y. Smith.

The cups in men's doubles are now held by Nat Thornton and R. M. Grant who won them for the first time in 1913. On Saturday the first prize will be given to the winner, while others will be awarded the runners up in each event. Play will begin each day at 10 o'clock, and the time for all matches will be posted in advance.

In connection with the tournament, the club will arrange several entertainments for the visiting players. Meals will be served at the club, and on Saturday night an informal dance will be given. It is expected that a large entry list will be filed for this tournament. Hal Hunt, in the Chandler building, has charge of entries, and the time limit for entering is Saturday, June 27.

A DIP INTO THE PAST.

February 2, 1878--Daniel O'Leary completed a walk of 400 miles in 125 hours 15 minutes; Highland house, Cincinnati, Ohio.

He was a pole. However, there is little record locally over the Rube's departure. He will work a few such games in a season, but the reception handed him by his former pals at Ponce de Leon last week will come near sizing him up for the season. Gil Price, who joined the club, has yet to show what he is going to do, now that he has joined other forces.

The acquisition of Clarence Kraft is going to make the Vol out still more dangerous. However, if it had to be done just what Bill Schwartz will do with him right now. Kraft was sought as a first baseman, but the removal of Gene Pulett at the rate he is traveling at present, would appear to be a very serious mistake. Possibly Schwartz will find a place for the former Pol in the outfield, since his hitting is his greatest asset.

Amateur Games At Piedmont

An afternoon of unusual entertainment, starting with a basket picnic, will be held this afternoon at Piedmont park by the local association of retail grocers and butchers.

The events on the program include a double bill of baseball, several events on the lake at Piedmont park, and foot races by the youngsters who will make the trip.

The picnic is the annual affair that the association holds, and inasmuch as the stores close every Wednesday afternoon, it was thought best to have the picnic on one of these days instead of devoting a whole day to the affair as heretofore.

The baseball games will be the regular ones scheduled for play in the local city league, and are sure to be hummers from the start, as all four of the teams in this league are fast and battling hard for the pennant.
